- (6) Documentation

- (a) Relevant documentation includes the relevant part(s) of the Training and Procedures Manual, which may be included in a separate Quality Manual.

An ATO may, in addition to using the services of full-time dedicated personnel belonging to a separate quality department, undertake the monitoring of specific areas or activities by the use of part-time auditors.
 - (b) An ATO whose structure and size does not justify the establishment of full-time auditors may undertake the audit function by the use of part-time personnel from within its own organization or from an external source under the terms of an agreement acceptable to the Authority.
 - (c) In all cases the ATO will develop suitable procedures to ensure that persons directly responsible for the activities to be audited are not selected as part of the auditing team. Where external auditors are used, it is essential that any external specialist is familiar with the type of training conducted by the ATO.

- (d) When an ATO defines the audit schedule, significant changes to the management, organization, training, or technologies must be considered, as well as changes to the regulatory requirements.

(14) Monitoring and corrective action

- (a) The primary aim of monitoring within the Quality System is to investigate and judge its effectiveness, thereby ensuring that defined policies and training standards are complied with continuously. Monitoring activity is based upon quality inspections, audits, corrective action and follow-up. The ATO shall establish and publish a quality procedure to monitor regulatory compliance on a continuing basis. The objective of this monitoring activity is eliminating the causes of unsatisfactory performance.
- (b) Any non-compliance identified shall be communicated to the manager responsible for taking corrective action or, if appropriate, the Accountable Manager. Such non-compliance shall be documented to support further investigation, to determine the cause, and to enable the development of recommendations of appropriate corrective actions.

- (c) The Quality Assurance Programme shall include procedures to ensure that corrective actions are developed in response to findings. These quality procedures will allow for the monitoring of corrective actions to verify their effectiveness and that they have been completed. Organizational responsibility and accountability for the implementation of corrective action resides with the department cited in the report identifying the finding. If the ATO requires the satellite ATO to conduct activity which exceeds the satellite ATO's authorisation or approval, the ATO is responsible for ensuring that the satellite ATO's quality assurance takes account of such additional requirements.

(19) Quality System Training

- (a) Correct and thorough training is essential to optimise quality in every organization. In order to achieve significant outcomes of such training the ATO will ensure that its staff understands the objectives as laid down in the Quality Manual.
- (b) Those responsible for managing the Quality System are to receive training covering:
 - (i) An introduction to the concept of Quality System
 - (ii) Quality management
 - (iii) Concept of Quality Assurance
 - (iv) Quality manuals
 - (v) Audit techniques
 - (vi) Reporting and recording
 - (vii) The way in which the Quality System will function in the ATO
- (c) Time must be provided to train every individual involved in quality management and for briefing the remainder of the employees. The allocation of time and resources is to be governed by the size and complexity of the operation concerned.
- (d) Sources of Training

Quality management courses are available from the various national or international institutions, and an ATO may consider whether to rely on such institutions in training those personnel likely to be involved in the management of Quality Systems. Organizations with sufficient, appropriately-qualified staff may consider whether to carry out in-house training.

- (20) Quality Systems for small ATO.
- (a) The requirement to establish and document a Quality System, and to employ a Quality Manager applies to all ATOs.
 - (b) Complex quality systems may be inappropriate for small ATOs and the clerical effort required to draw up manuals and quality procedures for a complex system may stretch their resources. An ATO will tailor its quality system to suit the size and complexity of its training and allocate resources accordingly.
 - (c) Small ATOs may develop a Quality Assurance Programme that employs a checklist. The checklist must have a supporting schedule that requires completion of all checklist items within a specified timescale, together with a statement acknowledging completion of a periodic review by top management. An occasional independent overview of the checklist contents and achievement of the Quality Assurance should be undertaken.
 - (d) The small ATO may decide to use internal or external auditors or a combination of the two. In these circumstances, external specialists and or qualified organizations may perform the quality audits on behalf of the Quality Manager.
 - (e) If the independent quality audit function is conducted by external auditors, the audit schedule will be described in the relevant documentation.
 - (f) Whatever arrangements are made, the main ATO retains the ultimate responsibility for the quality system and especially the completion and follow-up of corrective actions.
